Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

The European championship UEFA EURO 2008 started and we as well as our fans notice our own 10-years old "Brustkrauler"-Logo day and night all over the world in TV, press, Internet etc..

Obviously your logo-designer never designed a new logo himself but was inspired by our logo, searching the World Wide Web. Only slight modifications lead to the actually existing result and we wonder what you have payed for that.

Pls. have a look how the logo easily was developed: <http://brustkrauler.de/em-2008.htm>.

Before starting official legal affairs we decided to give you the chance for soonest reply on that plagiarism.

You should have best knowledge on penalties dealing with stolen intellectual properties. Therefore we expect an adequate offer keeping UEFA EURO 2008 as it is on one side and satisfying our right of ownership on the other side.

Looking forward to your soonest answer we remain

Yours faithfully

DER PRÄSIDENT
